

MHC SOFTWARE SELECTS BRAINWARE TO DELIVER INTELLIGENT DATA CAPTURE

MHC to Infuse Enterprise Content Management Suite with Brainware Data Capture Technology

July 26, 2011, Ashburn, VA and Burnsville, MN—Brainware, Inc., the leading provider of intelligent data capture and enterprise search solutions, and MHC Software, Inc., creators of the innovative MHC Image Express™ application and solutions for the streamlined processing of accounts payable, procurement and human resources operations, announced today an agreement that will offer customers Brainware Distiller's unmatched capabilities for line-item data extraction and reconciliation as a component of MHC's Enterprise Content Management (ECM) suite.

By imparting MHC's user-friendly ECM platform with Brainware's field extraction and matching prowess, this combined solution will reflect the scalability and ease of implementation upon which both vendors have built their reputations.

"MHC has a record of fierce devotion to customer service, which includes delivering reliable, superior products that meet the needs of our clients," said John Shields, President of MHC Software. "We conducted a thorough assessment of available technologies for data capture and it became clear that Brainware was the only vendor whose field extraction rates, scalability and ease of implementation exceeded our high standards for compelling business value. Brainware is the cream of the crop, and will make a powerful addition to our ECM portfolio."

"Brainware and MHC share a commitment to providing the world's best organizations with cost-effective software applications that make document-based processes simpler, reliable and transparent," said Carl Mergele, Chief Executive Officer at Brainware. "Brainware's intelligent data capture technology is the clear market leader for classifying, processing and reconciling vast amounts of transactional data, and we are honored to team with MHC, whose impeccable customer satisfaction rates suggest a consistent fidelity to technologies that quite simply work."
